AN ADVOCATE COMMUNITY PANEL ON:

VICTORIA'S FUTURE

Is taxation the key to bringing more small businesses here? Our expert debate

WILL ARMSTRONG: Yoko Ono is calling for the anniversary of the death of her husband, John Lennon, to become a day of worldwide healing.

CHIP DENSE: In a full-page advertisement appearing in Sunday editions of The New York Times, Ono urges readers to mark the anniversary by apologizing to those who have suffered because of violence and war.

CAROLE STRAYHORN: "Every year, let's make December 8th the day to ask for forgiveness from those who suffered the most terrible," writes the former Beatles' widow.

he returned home from a recording studio on Dec. 8, 1980. The shooter, Mark David Chapman, remains in New York's Attica state prison. His fourth request for parole was denied last month.

WA: Of her own loss, Ono says: "I don't know if I am ready yet to forgive the one who pulled the trigger ..."

CD: "Let's wish strongly that one day we will be able to say that we healed ourselves and by healing ourselves, we healed the world."

CS: Ono was with Lennon when he was gunned down.
